

2023 Fall Residency Program

Statement of Intent

This is an immersive program. Students should not take other classes outside of the Residency Program nor should they hold a job during the program. We recommend that they do not return to Oxford or home over weekends or during evenings, but stay in Over-the-Rhine as much as possible. This allows participants to bond with the community and it builds a stronger cohort.

Can you commit to being in Over-the-Rhine as much as possible both during and outside of class time? If there are exceptions or circumstances we should know about, please include them here:

There will be orientation events throughout the summer, as well as summer readings. Can you participate in those exercises?

What are your summer plans? Are there limitations to times you can participate in orientation events?

There will be an important orientation session on Friday, August 23rd and Saturday, August 24th before classes start. This is mandatory. Can you commit?

As part of the application process, there will be online discussion between applicants and RP faculty members/our community partners.. With your spring semester schedule in mind, what would be the best time(s) for you to have this discussion?
