

The United States today

Current territorial claims

Contested claims:

Wake Island is claimed also by the Marshall Islands. ■ Swains Island, claimed by the US as part of American Samoa, is claimed also by Tokelau. ■ Navassa Island is claimed also by Haiti. ■ Serranilla Bank and Bajo Nuevo Bank are claimed also by Colombia. ■ The US defines Guantánamo Bay as a lease, not a territorial claim; however, Cuba rejects the lease and regards US control of the territory as illegal.

© 2022 by John-Charles Duffy. Except as otherwise noted, this work is made available under the Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial-ShareAlike 4.0 International License, <https://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc-sa/4.0/>. All rights are reserved for the flag-shaped “Empire and American Religion” logo; if you alter this work, you may not reproduce the logo. Use of the Creative Commons license icon is subject to the Creative Commons Trademark Policy.